WELCOME FROM THE PRESIDENT

Welcome to Houston!

On behalf of our hosts the ARLIS/Texas-Mexico Chapter, the 2005 Conference Planning Advisory Committee, and the ARLIS/NA Executive Board, welcome to Houston and the 33rd annual conference of the Art Libraries Society of North America!

The Houston Conference, with the theme “Beyond Borders: Collaborative and Explorative Ventures in Arts Information” provides a wealth of sessions, workshops, exhibitors, and fascinating tours featuring regional architecture, art collections, cemeteries, and museums. Thanks and appreciation are due the Houston team, including Jon Evans and Mark Pompelia as Local Arrangements Co-chairs, Laura Schwartz and Elizabeth Schaub as Program Co-chairs, Janine Henri as Exhibits Coordinator, Margaret Culbertson as Tours Coordinator and the many, many volunteers who gave of their time and creativity to bring this together.

Our thanks also go to our conference sponsors. Their generosity and presence continues to support the ARLIS/NA conference experience. Please plan to visit the Exhibits Halls to thank them personally and to examine the many wonderful items and services on display.

The Welcome Party on Saturday, the Convocation Reception on Sunday, the exhibit receptions (Sunday, Monday and Tuesday), the student pub night and a fun evening of dancing on Monday offer networking opportunities abound. The Hilton Americas with its convenient and dramatic seating and dining, provides many venues in which to get together.

In your program you see a wealth of opportunities for professional development in librarianship and the arts. Notable are the two plenary sessions, of critical interest to all attendees: on Saturday Dr. Fred Heath will speak on the implications of the digital library for collection development, teaching, and learning in the arts environment, and on Tuesday Dr. John Lienhard will address how the artist “sees” and how we see what the artist shows us.

All the elements are in place for a fantastic conference – including, back by popular demand, an Internet room and a silent auction featuring member art work. It’s going to be a wonderful conference! Welcome once again and enjoy.

Jeanne M. Brown
ARLIS/NA President
WELCOME FROM THE CONFERENCE CO-CHAIRS

On behalf of the ARLIS/Texas-Mexico Chapter, our fair city of Houston, and the singular state of Texas, we wish to welcome you to the Society’s 33rd annual conference. Our dedicated conference planning committee has worked hard to ensure that you have every opportunity to learn and enjoy while in Houston. From sessions featuring Chicano art collecting, tours devoted to Modern sanctuaries, and workshops on managing digitization projects, you’ll have plenty of time for professional development – not to mention a bit of dancing following days of sitting.

Regardless of how you spend your time on conference activities, we hope you’ll be able to take advantage of the rich cultural resources that Houston has to offer just outside your hotel.

Enjoy!

GENERAL INFORMATION

OPEN MEETING & GUEST POLICY
Business meetings are open to all members. Guests are welcome to attend, provided they are duly registered. For information on registering a guest, please visit the Registration Desk located at the east end of the 4th floor lobby.

FIRST TIME ATTENDEES
Welcome to Houston! Thank you for joining us for our 33rd Annual Conference. We trust you will find the conference a stimulating experience with a range of sessions, workshops, tours, and special interest groups that will meet your professional needs. If you are not already active in one of the many special interest groups, check out the “Meeting Finder” in the program, as these are a good way to participate in the activities of The Society. Remember, all business meetings are open, so we encourage you to attend and get involved.

While in Houston, a special meeting for First Time Attendees will convene where you will be introduced to ARLIS/NA and where the membership can get better acquainted with you. This will also serve as a time to meet other First Time Attendees. We encourage you to join us on Saturday, April 2 from 6:30-7:30 pm in Room 337 AB, after which we hope you will attend the Opening Plenary session with Dr. Fred Heath, not to mention the conference Welcome Party that follows immediately after.

STUDENT ATTENDEES
For the first time, Student Attendees are invited to a Student Pub Social that will migrate to various downtown drinking establishments. Please plan to join us in the conference hotel lobby on Tuesday, April 5 at 6:00 pm, where we will convene before walking to the first pub. Non-student attendees are welcome to join the group.

HOTEL: SERVICES & AMENITIES
The Hilton Americas offers a range of services to meet the needs of conference attendees.

Parking at the hotel is conveniently located in the adjacent garage (Polk St. entrance) connected to the hotel via skybridge. The daily self-parking charge is $12 and includes in-and-out privileges via guest room card. Additionally, there is both street and lot parking nearby; however meter and lot restrictions will likely make the hotel parking garage the safest and most convenient option.

The Business Center provides copying, printing, faxing, and package shipping (especially for those of you with winning bids at the Members’ Silent Auction). The Business Center is located on Level Three near the skybridge to the Convention Center, exactly one floor below the Conference Registration Desk.

The hotel boasts three Restaurants that serve a range of fare: traditional American cuisine in The Café, more eclectic fare at the Skyline Grill, and steaks at Spencer’s. Room Service is also an option for those who care to dine in.

The Skyline Spa and Health Club allows attendees to take care of their bodies during their stay at the conference. Located on the 24th floor, both facilities offer stunning views of the downtown skyline and surrounding areas. Service hours for both are from 6:00 am – 10:00 pm at a rate of $5 per day. Use of the pool (heated swimming pool, hydrotherapy pool, and beautiful outdoor deck) is complementary. The Skyline Spa offers a menu of services (ask upon check-in). The Fitness Center offers a full complement of exercise equipment, including weight machines, free weights, stationery cycles, step machines, and treadmills.
Other Services include luggage hold, ATM, currency exchange, concierge desk, shoe shine stand, and laundry services.

GETTING AROUND

Houston METRO is the Metropolitan Transit Authority of Harris County, Texas, and operates several modes of transportation within the Houston area (www.ridemetro.org).

On Foot: Downtown Houston is at a 45-degree angle in contrast to the rest of the city. The Hilton Americas, along with the Toyota Center and the George R. Brown Convention Center, anchor the east-southeast corner of downtown—an area undergoing dramatic growth and renovation. This means that the more developed sections of downtown are a short distance away by trolley, train, taxi, or even by foot (the Skyline District on the west side, the Theatre District and Entertainment District on the northwest corner, the Historic District on the north-northeast side, with the Shopping District along and off of Main Street).

The Park Shops are in close proximity to the hotel (3 blocks) and offer a full complement to hotel amenities and services: restaurants (both fast fare and sit down), several banks, a drugstore and convenience store, post office and shipping stores, salons, medical/dental/optical services, travel services, clothing stores, and gift items, among others.

Trolley Service offers low-cost transportation during daytime and early evening hours around downtown Houston. Please note the limited hours on page 15. Fare is $0.50 one way. There are two lines, green and orange. The Green Line stops right outside the Hilton Americas. Take it along its route, or to either the Orange Line or Red Line (light rail) for destinations in the northern and western sides of downtown.

The arrival of METRORail (light rail) brings a new era of transportation to Houston. It is a fast, convenient, and safe way to travel between Downtown, Midtown, the Museum District, the Texas Medical Center, and Reliant Park. The single line of service spans 7.5 miles and features 16 stations. The rail line is six blocks away from the Hilton Americas, about a 12-minute walk.

The cost for a one-way fare on METRORail is $1 (same as the cost of riding a bus). However, in order to ride METRORail, you must have a valid pass, ticket or transfer. Passengers who do not have a valid ticket, pass or transfer will receive a fine of up to $200. Transfers are valid on both rail and bus, and are good for approximately three hours of travel (rail—any direction, bus—same direction). Transfers to and from intersecting bus lines are free. If transferring from bus to rail, ask the bus operator for your transfer when boarding. A ticket purchased from a Ticket Vending Machine (TVM) at a rail platform can be used to transfer from rail to bus.

To ride METRORail, follow these simple steps:
1. Go to the nearest light rail station. Each of METRO’s light rail stations can be easily identified by their open design and custom artwork. You can purchase your light rail ticket here while safely waiting for your train.
2. Buy your ticket. To purchase your ticket, please use the convenient TVMs located at each station. Your ticket will be validated automatically with the date and time of your purchase.
3. Wait for/Board the train. A train’s destination will be announced prior to the arrival of each train. It is also displayed at the base of the train’s windshield and on the sides of the car (for example, UH-Downtown, Fannin South).
4. Arrive at your stop. Electronic signs displaying the approaching stations are located behind the Train Operator’s cab and at the center of the train.

Taxi Service: Once you are in Houston, getting around town is quite easy. Houston boasts the third largest taxicab fleet in the country, with more than 2,000 vehicles in operation (63% owned by Yellow Cab). The current City of Houston regulated taxi meter rate is $2.50 for the first 1/11 mile and $0.30 for each additional 2/11 mile ($4.00 for the first mile and $1.65 for each mile thereafter). Waiting is calculated on the taxi meter at $0.30 per minute ($18.00 per hour). There is an additional $1 surcharge on all trips that commence between the hours of 8:00 pm and 6:00 am Up to four passengers can ride for the price of one. Drivers are independent contractors and are not employed by a cab company; they work for themselves. Tips are at the discretion of the customer. Most taxis are computer dispatched with Global Positioning System and accept reservations and major credit cards.

Fiesta Cab Company: (713) 225-2666
Liberty Cab Company: (713) 695-6700
United Cab Company: (713) 699-0000
Yellow Cab Company: (713) 236-1111

Buses offer Local and Commuter Service. Local buses serve mostly city streets, stopping at every other corner along the route. One-way adult fare for Local Service is $1. If your trip requires more than one bus ride or if you have other trips to make later in the day on a Local bus, you will want either a transfer or Day Pass. Day Passes ($2) are good for 24 hours and should be purchased on the bus you board, and transfers (free) are good in the direction of travel for three hours. Transfers must be obtained when you pay your fare. If you will be transferring to a service with a higher fare, pay full fare on the first bus. Almost all Local routes are identified with one and two-digit numbers (for example, the 2 Bellaire or 82 Westheimer). Commuter Service routes are indicated by three digits and offer express service between business centers around the city (it is not likely that you will want to travel via Commuter Bus).

You can pay your fare one of several ways:

- Passes and Stored Value Cards: These credit card-sized passes have magnetic strips that register payment when inserted into the farebox. A METRO pass or stored value card is the easiest way to pay your fare. It is also the most cost effective: stored value cards and a 7 Day pass ($9) offer a discount over the individual one-way or round-trip fare. Purchase at the METRO RideStore station at 1900 Main St. Call METROLine at (713) 635-4000 with questions on discounts or METRO RideStores.

- Cash: Fareboxes accept dollar bills and coins, including the gold $1 coin. Remember, neither the farebox nor the Operator make change.

- Tokens: Packets of 10 are available for just $8. Each token is valid for one Local fare.

SPECIAL EVENTS

SOCIETY CIRCLE RECEPTION

Devin Borden Hiram Butler Gallery
Friday, April 1, 7:00 – 9:00 pm
SPONSORED BY DEVIN BORDEN HIRAM BUTLER GALLERY

By invitation only; space limited.

Society Circle Members will be treated to an evening of cocktails at Devin Borden Hiram Butler Gallery. Known for their mix of established international artists and local talent, the gallery represents Jennifer Bartlett, James Turrell, Robert Wilson, as well as local luminaries Joseph Havel and Terrell James. Members will have the opportunity to view livres d’artiste from ULAE, while taking in some of Houston’s beautiful spring weather in a compound including gallery, garden, and home. The residence, a modest working class cottage dating from 1880, houses a collection of Contemporary prints including work by Jasper Johns, Robert Rauschenberg, John Cage, Andy Warhol, and Sherrie Levine.

The Society Circle supports the work of ARLIS/NA through personal donations by Circle members. To learn more about the Society Circle and become a member visit the Registration Desk.

LEADERSHIP BREAKFAST

Hilton Americas
Saturday, April 2, 8:00 – 9:30 am
GENEROUSLY SPONSORED BY F.A. BERNETT BOOKS

By invitation only.

Organized for current leaders of The Society, The Leadership Breakfast meeting provides attendees with the opportunity to learn about issues central to the successful running of The Society. This year a new format will be implemented, allowing two discussion groups, chapter officers and group leaders, to meet independently. These sessions will give the two groups the chance to discuss issues specific to their concerns.

A complimentary continental breakfast will be available for all attendees.

WELCOME PARTY

Hilton Americas
Saturday, April 2, 9:00 – 10:30 pm
GENEROSLY SPONSORED BY THE CHAPTERS OF ARLIS/NA

Join friends and colleagues at the Welcome Party, the official opening reception for the Society’s 33rd annual conference. Held in the fabulous foyer of the hotel’s 4th floor, the Welcome Party is the place to meet new faces, get reacquainted with familiar ones, and to celebrate the commencement of a great week of programming. With its high ceilings adorned with Venetian glass reminiscent of Dale Chihuly’s works, the space features an impressive panorama of the Houston skyline.

EXHIBIT HALL OPENING RECEPTION

Hilton Americas
Sunday, April 3, 12:00 – 1:30 pm
GENEROSLY SPONSORED BY SASKIA, LTD.

No ARLIS/NA conference would be complete without the presence of our exhibitors. Featured will be many of our regular exhibitors as well as some first timers, so be sure to make visiting the exhibit hall part of your conference experience.
MEMBERS’ EXHIBITION
AND SILENT AUCTION

_Hilton Americas, Exhibit Hall_

Exhibition hours:
- Sunday, April 3, 12:00 – 5:00 pm
- Monday, April 4, 8:00 – 11:30 am
- Monday, April 4, 2:30 – 5:00 pm

Silent Auction bidding:

Silent Auction ceremony:
- Monday, April 4, 5:00 – 6:30 pm

Please join us in the Exhibit Hall for an exhibition and silent auction featuring the artwork of your colleagues. Each artist/member has chosen to donate a work of their own creation in support of The Society.

Join us for an exciting event and an opportunity to take home some exceptional art!

CONVOCATION CEREMONY

_Stude Concert Hall, Rice University_

Sunday, April 3, 6:00 – 7:30 pm

We’ll convene our Convocation Ceremony this year at the Stude Concert Hall on the campus of Rice University. One of the true jewels of performing arts centers in Houston, this facility is known for its fine acoustics and beautifully crafted interior.

We are pleased to note that The Society will honor the latest recipient of the Distinguished Service Award. Additionally, The Society will present a variety of awards ranging from travel to research to publications.

The event will be capped off by a presentation from Houston’s own, The Art Guys, a dynamic duo of wit, whimsy and downright wackiness. The Guise, as they are affectionately known, will share insights about process and collaboration.

Shuttle buses will depart beginning at 5:15 pm. The last bus will depart the hotel at 5:45 pm.

CONVOCATION RECEPTION

_Cullinan Hall, The Museum of Fine Arts, Houston_

Sunday, April 3, 8:00 – 10:30 pm

Following on the heels of the Convocation Ceremony at Rice University, we’ll migrate to the campus of The Museum of Fine Arts, Houston. Here we’ll gather in Cullinan Hall, the centerpiece of Mies van der Rohe’s late 50s addition to the Museum’s original Neoclassical structure.

As one might expect, this grand example of the International Style is an ideal environment for the display of Modern and contemporary art. On view for the duration of the conference and accessible during the reception will be _African Art Now: Masterpieces from the Jean Pigozzi Collection_, which is a traveling exhibition co-organized by the MFAH. Recognized as the finest collection of its kind in the world, this show features 33 artists from 15 countries and explores the diversity and range of expressions by contemporary African artists.

Hors d’oeuvres and a light bar will be provided.

MEMBERSHIP LUNCHEON AND LECTURE “HOUSTON, JAMES JOHNSON SWEENEY, AND MODERNISM AT MID-CENTURY”

_Hilton Americas_

Monday, April 4, 11:30 am – 1:00 pm

Alison de Lima Greene, Curator of Modern and Contemporary Art at the Museum of Fine Arts, Houston, and Dr. Marcia Brennan, Assistant Professor of Modern and Contemporary Art at Rice University, will present a two-part lecture focusing on James Johnson Sweeney, director of The Museum of Fine Arts, Houston from 1961 to 1968.

Ms. Greene will offer an introduction to the history of Modernism in Houston, starting with the drive among Houston’s art patrons to first construct a museum for the city, and then to create a museum dedicated to contemporary art.

Dr. Brennan will focus on the curatorial and artistic collaboration that took place between James Johnson Sweeney and the Swiss kinetic artist Jean Tinguely during the 1960s.

Tickets can be purchased at the Registration Desk (space available).

_Monday, April 4, 7:30 – 9:30 pm_

Please note: Doors open at 7:30 pm; dancing begins at 8:00 pm.

Have you always wanted to try the Texas two-step, but have yet to master the [insert state of choice] one-step? Were you under the impression that the electric slide was a tool for image librarians? Does the extent of your salsasing involve a bag of chips? If any of these apply to you, then throw on your boots and hats (or whatever is comfortable) and join us on the dance floor for a real Texas hoedown. There’s no better place to learn the essentials of country & western and Latin dance than while in Houston. Our instructors from Westside Dance Studio will have us out on the floor and shakin’ it for ARLIS/NA. Remember, this fundraiser benefits our society. It’s not too late to sign up, y’all!

Tickets can be purchased at the Registration Desk.

10:00 AM – 11:30 AM
Session I
Sacred Modern: The Menil Style
(Grand Ballroom J)
In addition to their pivotal roles as art collectors and patrons, Dominique and John de Menil commissioned a stellar series of architects—including Philip Johnson, Louis I. Kahn, Luis Barragan, and Renzo Piano—for a variety of building projects. Some of their architectural projects were realized, while others remain as tantalizing drawings preserved in archives. A panel of architectural historians will examine the built and unbuilt architectural works commissioned by the de Menils and reflect upon the place of these works within their overall art patronage, their relations with the architects, and the development of a de Menil architectural aesthetic.

Participants:
Stephen Fox, Fellow of the Anchorage Foundation, Menil Architectural Patronage: Points for Further Examination
Rafael Longoria, Professor of Architecture at the University of Houston, current president of the Association of Collegiate Schools of Architecture, The Menil Aesthetic: Architecture and Urban Design
Deborah Velders, Director of Exhibitions, Menil Collection

Moderator:
Margaret Culbertson,
Museum of Fine Arts, Houston

Session II
Oil Patch to Oil on Canvas: Four Texas Women Collectors
(Room 339 AB)
This session will compare and contrast the development of two collectors of primarily the fine arts – Dominique de Menil and Marion Koogler McNay – and two collectors of primarily the decorative arts
SUNDAY

– Ima Hogg and Marjorie Merriweather Post – much of whose wealth flowed from Texas. The panelists will focus on personal styles of collecting, explore how historical and cultural events affected the collectors, and examine the influence those collectors had on American museums during the century in which they lived, especially legacies through house museums where applicable.

Participants:
Emily Neff, Curator of American Painting and Sculpture, Museum of Fine Arts, Houston
Phil Heagy, Librarian, Menil Collection
Kristen Regina, Librarian, Hillwood Museum and Gardens
Katherine O’Dell, Graduate Student, School of Information, University of Texas at Austin

Moderator:
John Hagood, National Gallery of Art

Session III
(Grand Ballroom K)
As colleges and universities encourage use of digitally formatted information across campus, the traditional boundaries between the art library and the visual resources collection are blurring. With the transition to the digital age, collection managers and patrons are no longer restricted to obtaining digital content from a local or administrative unit. Successful implementations of digital image archives across campuses often involve collaboration between those who have traditionally managed book/text collections and those who have managed image collections. This session seeks to highlight successful collaborations between libraries and visual resources collections that have resulted in the development of digital image archives for teaching and research that are accessible to patrons across the entire institution.

Participants:
Roberta Blitz, Digital Collections/Art Research Librarian, Avery Architectural & Fine Arts Library, Columbia University, Columbia Image Bank: Digital Visual Resources for the Campus
Carole Ann Fabian, Director, Educational Technology Center, University of Buffalo, Democratizing Campus Collections: Collaborating for a Universal Asset Model
Amy Lucker, Head, Slide and Digital Imaging, Fine Arts Library, Harvard University, Sharing the Bridge: From Analog to Digital Without Falling In
Ann Baird Whiteside, Director, Fiske Kimball Fine Arts Library, University of Virginia, Charting the Unknown Path: Collaborative Digital Collection Building at the University of Virginia

Moderator:
John Taormina, Director, Visual Resources Center, Dept. of Art and Art History, Duke University

11:30 AM – 12:30 PM

12:00 PM – 1:30 PM
Exhibits Hall Opening Reception
(Grand Ballroom A–F)

No ARLIS/NA conference would be complete without the presence of our exhibitors. Featured will be many of our regular exhibitors as well as some first timers, so be sure to make visiting the exhibit hall part of your conference experience.

12:00 PM – 5:00 PM
Exhibit Hall Open
Members’ Exhibit and Silent Auction Preview

1:30 PM – 3:00 PM
Session IV
Photography at the Borders: Imaging/Imagining Texas and Mexico
(Room 340 AB)

This is a rare opportunity to discover Texan and Mexican photography through the work of two contemporary artists and that of Mexican master Manuel Alvarez Bravo. Geoff Winningham will discuss his images of travel along the Rio Grande from El Paso to Brownsville. Delilah Montoya will present her powerful installation “Sed: trail of thirst” depicting the perilous illegal migration route across the Arizona-Sonora desert. Roberto Curley will show a series of unpublished Alvarez Bravo images of post-revolutionary rural Mexico that sought to define an authentic Mexican identity. Discussion will focus on how photographers depict the two neighboring cultures when national borders are fixed, but social and ethnic boundaries are more porous.

Participants:
Professor Geoff Winningham, Department of Visual Arts, Photography and Printmaking, Rice University
Professor Delilah Montoya, Art Department, Photography, University of Houston
Professor Roberto Curley, Departamento de Estudios Socio Urbanos, Universidad de Guadalajara, Mexico

Co-Moderators:

Session V
Visual Access to Visual Materials
(Grand Ballroom J)

Many patrons of art libraries are visual learners who search for information that is visually formatted. With an increasing number of technologies for information retrieval now available, the time has come for ARLIS to discuss visual access. In addition to content-based image retrieval (CBIR), this panel will cover creative ways to provide our patrons with visual access to information from thumbnail images as a component of OPAC bibliographic item displays to the enhancement of numerical and verbal range finders and subject indicators with images. The need for both textual access and visual access to information provides an opportunity for collaborative efforts between art libraries and visual resource collections staff.

Participants:
James Z. Wang, Assistant Professor of Information Sciences and Technology and Assistant Professor of Computer Science
SUNDAY

Session VI

This isn't a ranch so why do we need a brand?: Public relations and marketing (Room 339 AB)

Branding: Why do it? What works? What doesn't? Branding, as well as marketing and public relations, will be covered by this panel of professionals with varied perspectives from the museum, public and academic library contexts. Experiences with efforts at the panelists’ respective institutions and a discussion about concepts, costs, results, and lessons learned will help shed some light on how to effectively build your unit’s identity.

Participants: Carole Cable, Deputy Assistant Director for Library Development and Publications, University of Texas Libraries, The University of Texas at Austin

Andrea Lapsley, Assistant Director Marketing and Development, Houston Public Library

Pamela Johnson, Vice President, Communications and Corporate Relations, The J. Paul Getty Trust

Moderator: Bella Karr Gerlich, Head, Arts & Special Collections, University Libraries, Carnegie Mellon University

Session VII

De-Googleing Today's Students: Successful Models Of Art Library Instruction

Four years ago the Association of College and Research Libraries (ACRL) published new information literacy competency standards for higher education in order to assist librarians in meeting the challenges of educating students in an increasingly technological world. Since then college and university librarians have been working to implement new teaching strategies based on the performance outcomes addressed in the standards. This session will create an opportunity for sharing successful teaching models that may be applied in a variety of art library and visual resource settings. Specific ways of engaging and educating visual learners will be addressed and active learning activities will be shared.

Participants: Carole Ann Fabian, Director, Educational Technology Center, University of Buffalo

Barbara Polowy, Art Librarian, Smith College

Stephanie Frontz, Art Librarian/Head, Multimedia Center, University of Rochester

Sarah Dickinson, Collections Librarian, Harvard Design School

Buses to Convocation – Stude Hall, Rice University (last bus departs at 5:45 pm)

6:00 PM – 7:30 PM
Convocation Ceremony, Stude Hall, Rice University

We’ll convene our Convocation Ceremony this year at the Stude Concert Hall on the campus of Rice University. One of the true jewels of performing arts centers in Houston, this facility is known for its fine acoustics and beautifully crafted interior. We are pleased to note that The Society will honor the latest recipient of the Distinguished Service Award. The event will be capped off by a presentation from Houston’s own, The Art Guys a dynamic duo of wit, whimsy and downright wackiness. The Guise, as they affectionately known, will wow us with their latest and greatest, while sharing insights about process and collaboration

7:30 PM – 8:00 PM
Transportation to Convocation Reception

8:00 PM – 10:30 PM
Convocation Reception, Cullinan Hall, The Museum of Fine Arts, Houston

Following on the heels of the Convocation Ceremony at Rice University, we’ll migrate to the campus of The Museum of Fine Arts, Houston. Here we’ll gather in Cullinan Hall, the centerpiece of Mies van der Rohe’s late 50s addition to the Museum’s original Neoclassical structure. As one might expect, this grand example of the International Style is an ideal environment for the display of Modern and contemporary art. On view for the duration of the conference and accessible during the reception will be African Art Now: Masterpieces from the Jean Pigozzi Collection, which is a traveling exhibition co-organized by the MFAH. Recognized as the finest collection of its kind in the world, this show features 33 artists from 15 countries and explores the diversity and range of expressions by contemporary African artists.

Hors d’oeuvres and a light bar will be provided.

Session VIII: Outside the Box, Beyond the Cubicle: Developing Versatile Catalogers (Room 344 B)

Generously sponsored by Duncan Systems Specialists Inc.

Over the years, ARLIS/NA has addressed a myriad of issues but it has never examined how the work of an individual cataloger fits into a cataloging workflow or how the cataloger’s supervisor evaluates that work. This session will focus on the supervisor’s viewpoint and describe the challenges a manager faces when attempting to encourage the expansion of an individual cataloger’s horizons beyond his or her daily work. Issues that will be covered include setting priorities, applying standards, outsourcing, evaluation criteria, and professional activities that promote the development of cataloging skills.

Participants:
Amy Lucker, Head of Technical Services and Slides & Digital Imaging, Harvard University Fine Arts Library
Kay Teel, Serials Catalog Librarian and Cataloger for the Arts, Stanford University Libraries & Academic Information Resources
Robin Fradenburgh, Assistant Director for Technical Services, University of Texas Libraries, The University of Texas at Austin

Moderator:
Daniel Starr,
The Metropolitan Museum of Art

Session IX: The Education Of The Artist: Industrial Art Schools Of The 19th Century (Room 340 AB)

How did the advent of industrial art schools influence the long-term course of professional education in art and design? Schools founded in the 1870s in response to the perceived need to nurture U.S. economic development by increasing skills and understanding of drawing and design had effects far beyond those imagined by... the industrialists and social engineers who called for them. Three panelists will examine different aspects of these institutions and their development over time.

Participants:
Dr. Paul E. Bolin, Professor of Art Education and Visual Art Studies, University of Texas at Austin
Paul A. Dobbs, Interim Library Director, Massachusetts College of Art
Sara J. MacDonald, Public Services Librarian, University of the Arts

Moderator:
Sara J. MacDonald, University of the Arts

Session X
As libraries become more invested in the licensing of aggregated image databases, the roles of librarians and visual resources curators are blurring, requiring heightened collaboration and cooperation to manage them effectively. Areas of responsibility are also blurring, including collection development, reference, technical support, and instructional services. As image databases licensed by libraries are developed, we need to analyze the licensing processes, functionality requirements, service implications, and interoperability with other local content management and presentation systems. Fortunately, libraries and visual resource collections have a common mission: to bring together collections and users in a manner that supports teaching and research. This session will discuss various aspects of how libraries and image collections work together to choose image databases, to identify needed functionality, to train faculty and students in effective database use, and to explore how these databases fit into the “big picture” of image management on a campus.

Participants:
Gloria Selene Hinojosa, Collection Development Librarian, Alkek Library, Texas State University, San Marcos,
Selecting Online Image Databases
Donald Juedes, Librarian for Art History, Sheridan Libraries, Johns Hopkins University, Characteristics of a Successful Image Database
Ann Baird Whiteside, Director, Fiske Kimball Fine Arts Library, University of Virginia, Providing Services from Multiple Service Points

Session XI
The Forgiving Building: (Re)Designing the 21st-Century Library (Room 339 AB)
Just as library collections and the institutions that contain them have unique features, each library space has its own needs, character, and symbolism. What are the essential components, if any, of an appropriate, flexible, functional, and inviting library space? What are the effects of virtual collections on the physical aspects of the library? In this session, the panelists will explore the process of library design and how it can generate spaces that are agile, able to accommodate continual growth, capable of change, and friendly. Several major library building projects—from the past and present—including the Seattle Public Library designed by Rem Koolhaas and his firm, the Office for Metropolitan Architecture, will inform the discussion.

Participants:
Catherine S. Park, Director, Harris County Public Library, Harris County Public Library: Creating a Design Paradigm for Small Spaces
Sara Lowman, Director, Fondren Library, and Associate University Librarian, Rice University, Fondren Library at Rice University: Diary of a Renovation
Michael Morton, mARCHITECTS, Making a Place for the Virtual Library: Access for All

Art in Fiction: Expanding the Boundaries of Art Research (Room 340 AB)
Art in Fiction has been a recognized genre since Victorian times. Recently, there has been an increase in interest and in published output. Furthermore, at every annual conference a significant number of ARLIS/NA members are interested enough to get together informally to share and discuss one aspect of this genre: Art in Mystery Fiction.

Participants:
Shannon Van Kirk, Head, Wertz Art and Architecture Library, Miami University,
Art in Fiction: An Overview
Nicholas Kilmer, Painter and art dealer living in Cambridge, MA, author of the Fred Taylor art mystery series which includes Harmony in Flesh and Black, Man with a Squirrel, Dirty Linen, and O, Sacred Head.
Amy Navratil Ciccone, Associate Coordinator, Collection Development, University of Southern California, Ulrich Middeldorf and Art in Fiction: A Collector Ahead of His Time
Dean James, manager of Murder by the Book, Agatha and Macavity Award-winning author of numerous works of mystery non-fiction and fiction, The Art of Murder

Co-Moderators:
Amy Navratil Ciccone, Associate Coordinator, Collection Development, University of Southern California
Shannon Van Kirk, Head, Wertz Art and Architecture Library, Miami University

Session XIII
Art museums and their libraries: a European perspective
(Grand Ballroom G)
Relations between art museums and their libraries are much discussed by museum librarians in the United States. Museum librarians and the administrative and curatorial staff often disagree about the nature of the library, where it fits in among the programmatic activities of the museum, the user groups it is intended to serve, and its relationship with the outside world. Museum librarians in Europe share these concerns, and have a number of their own. The panelists, representing libraries in major European art museums, will discuss these and other issues, and share solutions for promoting cooperation among staff within their institutions and with other museums.

Participants:
Claudio Di Benedetto, Uffizi Library
Michiel Nijhoff, Librarian, Museum Boijmans van Beuningen
Elspeth J. Hector, Librarian, National Gallery, London

Moderator:
Annamaria Poma-Swank, Metropolitan Museum of Art, The Cloisters

Session XIV
Case Studies in Digitizing: Image Databases, Course Reserves, and Finding Aids (Grand Ballroom J)
Panelists will present case studies on creating digital image collections that range in scope from content creation for a single course to digitizing an entire slide library. Presenters will provide insight into the nuts-and-bolts of their projects covering the scope of their projects, successes and problems that they encountered, and what they would do differently for the next project. Specifically, the case studies include: creating small online digital image collections, transitioning from analog to digital images in a medium sized visual resources collection, and managing a project to digitize an entire visual resources collection of over 200,000 images, many of which have become a part of ARTstor’s offerings.

Participants:
Ed Loera, Assistant Professor & Coordinator of Distributed Learning & Electronic Resources, Portland State University, Open Source Software: A Viable Option for Art Libraries
Heather Cleary, Otis College of Art + Design, Visual Resources Librarian, Creating an online image repository: small steps and large leaps
MONDAY/TUESDAY

Boot Scootin’ in Houston:
ARLIS Fundraiser
(Grand Ballroom J)

Have you always wanted to try the Texas two-step, but have yet to master the [insert state of choice] one-step? Were you under the impression that the electric slide was a tool for image librarians? Does the extent of your salsaying involve a bag of chips? If any of these apply to you, then throw on your boots and hats (or whatev-er is comfortable) and join us on the dance floor for a real Texas hoedown. There’s no better place to learn the essentials of country & western and Latin dance than while in Houston. Our instructors from Westside Dance Studio will have us out on the floor and shakin’ it for ARLIS/NA. Doors open and refreshments will be available at 7:30 pm; dancing begins at 8:00 pm.

Session XV
Gen X or Just Gen? — So you want to work with art information? (Room 340 AB)
TUESDAY

What do library and information students need to know? How should they develop a career path for work in art libraries? As new librarians enter our profession, it is critical that we appreciate and channel the unique talents that new colleagues will bring to us. This session will present a panel of librarians ready to share their experience in a variety of settings as well as a faculty member in a school of information. Each participant will offer advice and practical information for students, recent graduates, experts who are changing fields, and professionals who are looking for what’s new in the profession.

Participants:
- Loriene Roy, Professor, School of Information and Center for Women’s and Gender Studies, University of Texas at Austin, Personalizing the LIS Curriculum in Preparation for a Career in Art Librarianship
- Laura Tatum, Project Archivist, Manuscripts and Archives, Yale University, Double Standards: Crossing the Border from Libraries to Archives
- Heather Ball, Art & Architecture Librarian, Virginia Tech, Making Friends With Your ‘Inner Ham’ and Other Tales of Academic Librarianship
- Susan Koskinen, Environmental Design Librarian, University of California, Berkeley, Private Practice: Where do you go from here?

Moderator:
- Susan Koskinen, Environmental Design Librarian, University of California, Berkeley

Session XVI
Chicano Art Through the Collector’s Eye: Issues and Directions
(Room 339 AB)

Chicano art is being recognized and collected more aggressively than ever. There have been a number of noted exhibits that have sought to define this work and individual collectors are part of what fuels interest in this emerging genre of American art. This session will present major individual Chicano/a art collectors up close and personal. Presenters will discuss what motivates them to collect this work and why they think it is important.

Participants:
- Dr. Tomas Ybarra-Frausto, Associate Director for Creativity and Culture, The Rockefeller Foundation, Collecting Chicano Art, Historical and Cultural Contexts: Aquí Estamos Y No Nos Vamos
- Joe Diaz, Businessman, Collector, Arte Caliente: Selections from the Joe Diaz Collection
- Dr. Gilberto Cardenas, Assistant Provost & Director Institute for Latino Studies, University of Notre Dame, Latino Art: A Holistic Approach
- Cheech Marin, Actor, Producer, Collector, Chicano Visions: American Painters On The Verge

Moderator:
- Miguel Juarez, Art & Photography Librarian, University of Arizona

Session XVII
Cataloging Cultural Objects: Implications for the Field
(Grand Ballroom J)

There has been little published documentation on data content standards applicable to cultural objects. Unlike the library and archival communities, which have well-established rules for data content in the form of the Anglo-American Cataloguing Rules (AACR), the cultural heritage community in the United States has never had published guidelines similar to AACR that meet the unique and often idiosyncratic descriptive requirements of one-of-a-kind cultural objects.
TUESDAY

Cataloguing Cultural Objects has been specifically designed for members of the communities engaged in describing and documenting works of art, cultural artifacts, and their visual surrogates. This session will discuss the contents of CCO, how it is used, and answer questions about using CCO.

Participants:
 Ann Baird Whiteside, Director, Fiske Kimball Fine Arts Library, University of Virginia, Cataloging Cultural Objects: An overview and answers to questions
 Maria Oldal, Head of Cataloging and Database Maintenance, Pierpont Morgan Library, Testing the waters: applying the CCO guidelines in the MARC format
 Sherman Clarke, Head of Original Cataloging, New York University Libraries, Rules are made to be broken, or stretched: AACR as inspiration
 Eileen Fry, Fine Arts Slide Librarian and DIDO Administrator, Indiana University, Making Bricks without Straw: the Field-By-Field Challenges of Implementing CCO in a University Image Collection

Moderator:
 Elizabeth O’Keefe, Director of Collection Information Services, Pierpont Morgan Library

 (Grand Ballroom A–F)

11:30 AM – 1:00 PM
 Session XVIII
 Decorative Arts in Houston and the Lone Star State (Room 339 AB)
 This session will focus on some of the local decorative arts collections in Houston museums and historic houses such as Bayou Bend, the Wagner House, and McGregor House at Winedale. The presenters will also look at 19th century Texas furniture made by German immigrants, longhorn furniture, and decorative arts that were made locally along with contemporary furniture and decorative arts.

Participants:
 Michael Brown, Curator of Bayou Bend, Inna Hogg’s Bridge to “an American Heritage”
 Dr. Ron Tyler, Professor of History, University of Texas at Austin, From Collectors to Museums: The Texas Experience
 H.H. “Pancho” Howze, Collections Manager at Winedale, Texas Biedermeier Furniture in the Winedale Collection

Co-Moderators:
 Kristen Regina, Librarian, Hillwood Museum
 Kathy Woodrell, Decorative Arts Specialist, Library of Congress

Session XIX
“When Couture Costs Less Than Ready-to-Wear:” Non-Commercial Content Creation and Resource Sharing (Room 340 AB)

While a major portion of our time and resources are spent acquiring materials, resources, indexes and databases, and negotiating access to them, a chief element of our skill-set is our ability to organize information for local use. From the creation of library catalogs, indexes and thesauri to 21st century digital image databases, we have always had to decide whether to purchase content from vendors or produce it in-house. This session seeks to explore in-house content production and how it might lend itself to collaborative efforts with colleagues and sister institutions. In addition, it will provide a forum for a positive discussion and reevaluation of the importance of maintaining an opportunity for creativity within our profession.

Participants:
Eric Wolf, Director of the Library, New York School of Interior Design, When there is no Ready-to-Wear: Triumphs and Failures in Creating an Image Database for Interior Design
Kay Teel, Serials Catalog Librarian and Cataloger for the Arts, Stanford University Libraries & Academic Information Resources, Overburdened but Underdressed: Library Catalogs
John Lynch, Director of Vanderbilt University’s Television News Archive, Archiving in a Glass House
Carol K. Rusk, Benjamin and Irma Weiss Librarian, Frances Mulhall Achilles Library, Whitney Museum of American Art, Hopper Research Collection, from Boxed Storage to Scholars’ Resource

Introduction:
Jenni Rodda, Curator, Visual Resources Collections, Institute of Fine Arts, New York University

Discussion leader:
Sharon C. Chickanzeff, Director, Stephen Chan Library, Institute of Fine Arts, New York University

Session XX
Academic Libraries, Visual Collections, and Campus Museum Border Crossings (Grand Ballroom J)
The relationships between college and university art libraries, visual resources collections, and their associated campus museums have a surprisingly divergent history. While some institutions have cultivated cooperative and collaborative relationships, other similar institutions have struggled to make any sort of formal or informal connections. In this session, the borders between campus libraries, visual resources collections, and museums will be investigated. Presentations will provide some background into the disparate histories of particular campus libraries, visual resources collections, and their associated museums, demonstrate some model working relationships, and explore newly realized and evolving collaborations. Panelists will offer recommendations for initiating and establishing collaborations and developing long-term partnerships.

Participants:
Suzanna Simor, Coordinator of Art and Music Library Services and Director, Queens College Art Center
Kim Collins, Art History Librarian, Emory University
Deborah Ultan Boudewyns, Art History & Performing Arts Librarian, University of Minnesota

Moderator:
Joy Kestenbaum, Art Librarian/Associate, Purchase College

1:30 PM – 3:00 PM
Session XXI
Educating the Educators: Teaching with Digital Technology (Grand Ballroom J)
Have you ever wondered how you might make your faculty’s transition from the analog to the digital world less painful and more satisfying? Those of us in the business of providing content are finding that we must now instruct our patrons – the educators at our institutions – how to use... digital resources. This includes not only teaching educators how to effectively utilize digital imaging technologies but also how to find images and use sophisticated image management and presentation programs. The panelists will suggest strategies and outreach methods for how to teach instructors to use digital technologies in the classroom and to encourage use of digital images through the utilization of MDID, PowerPoint, Word, Excel and web pages. Teaching art history courses digitally including research, coordination with other departments, a project timeline, software implementation, the learning curve, and overall cost estimating will be addressed as well.

Participants:
Heather Cleary, Visual Resources Librarian, Otis College, Teaching with MDID
Gretchen Tuchel, Visual Resources Curator, University of St. Thomas, Planning For and Implementing Digital Teaching Software
Maureen Burns & Rina Vecchiola, UC Irvine, What We Want (& Don't Want) to Know About Faculty Using Digital Images: Lessons Learned at the University of California

Moderator:
Corey Schultz, Stanford University

Session XXII
Working with the Best of Them: Evolving Vendor-Art Library Relations
(Room 339 AB)
This panel will be made up of professionals from both sides of the collection management "fence" offering cutting-edge suggestions and insight into the process of partnering with vendors. The panelists will describe vendor/library collaborations that have been both innovative and successful in these times of shrinking collections budgets. Successful long-term relationships between vendors and librarians will also be analyzed for insight and examples of best practices when managing a collection. Examples of successful ventures will include relationships between university bookstores and libraries, partnerships building the architecture collections, vendor collaborations with museum librarians, and the perspective of vendors who are publishing content electronically.

Participants:
Wayne Terwilliger, Assistant Director and General Books Manager, University of Virginia, Thinking Locally: The Success of Bookstore and Library Cooperation
Linda Tompkins-Baldwin, Library Director, Baltimore Museum of Art, Museum-Friendly Vendors
Betsy Peck Learned, Associate Dean of Libraries, Roger Williams University, Building Great Collections Together: 20 Years with F.A. Bernett

Moderator:
Lucie Wall Stylianopoulos, Information Services Librarian, Fine Arts Library, University of Virginia

Session XXIII
Remote Control: Library Services and Collections for Offsite Programs
(Room 340 AB)
This session will address issues surrounding academic library services and collections supporting offsite programs. Focusing on art and architecture programs, panelists will discuss distance education, library support for International Study Abroad Programs, and Inter-Institutional cooperation and support.
WEDNESDAY

Participants:
Tom Riedel, Distance Services Librarian, Regis University, Off-site but not out of mind: thinking of new ways to support distance education
Cara List, Reference Librarian, Architecture & Allied Arts Library, University of Oregon
Ann Lindell, Head, Architecture and Fine Arts Library, University of Florida, Library collections and support for international programs

Moderator:
Thomas R. Caswell, University of Florida
