Western European Art Foundations and Publishing

- Lindsay M. King and Russell T. Clement, Northwestern University Library
- March 26, 2011
- Art Libraries Society of North America / Visual Resources Association
What do art foundations do?

- Collections
- Exhibitions
- Public programs
- Research support
- Scholarly publications
What do art foundations publish?

- Exhibition catalogues
- Collection guides
- Catalogues raisonnés
- Bibliographies
- Editions of archival correspondence, etc.
- Publications of private art foundations often represent excellent value for their cost.
Fundació Antoni Tàpies

Barcelona, Spain

(Photograph: Lindsay King, 2010)
Fundació Joan Miró
Barcelona, Spain
(Photograph: Lindsay King, 2010)
Fundació Caixa Catalunya

Barcelona, Spain
(Photograph: Lindsay King, 2010)
Fondation d’art contemporain Salomon

Alex, France

(Photograph: Fondation Salomon, used under terms of the Creative Commons Attribution-Share Alike 3.0 Unported license)
Fondation Maeght
Saint-Paul de Vence, France
(Photograph: Modulor, used under terms of the Creative Commons Attribution-Share Alike 3.0 Unported license)
Fondation Beyeler
Riehen, Switzerland
(Photograph: Tobias Helfrich, 2004, used under terms of the Creative Commons Attribution-Share Alike 3.0 Unported license)
Western European Art Foundations and Publishing

Lindsay M. King and Russell T. Clement, The Journal of Academic Librarianship, Volume 37, Number 1 (January 2011), pages 5-8 plus online supplement

Contact us at: L-King@northwestern.edu or R-Clement@northwestern.edu