"All right," said Papa. "I'll read one of your favorites. And of course you are not going to interrupt the story tonight, are you?"

"Oh no, Papa. I'll be good."

Storytime: Architecture

LOOK
10th Floor, Gallery 3B
Peek inside this Mesoamerican model house from almost 2,000 years ago where everyone is preparing or enjoying a feast. Find a woman grinding corn, a dog eagerly waiting for food, and a host entertaining guests. This object was found in a tomb; why might someone have wanted it with them in the afterlife?

DRAW
These models give us a glimpse into the daily lives of people in the ancient Americas. What is your favorite place? What do you do there in that place? If you could change that space, what would it look like? Sketch it here!

EXPLORE & DISCUSS
As you walk through the galleries, what do you notice about the museum’s architecture, or the building’s style? How is it similar to or different from other buildings in the city?
