Expo 67’s Open—And It’s Great!

The Super-Happening On The Islands: Mankind ’67

By BILL SHARP

The scene is Canada, and here’s the news: A brand new park that is also a world-class cultural center is opening up in Montreal. The park is called Expo 67 and it’s located on the Île Saint-Hélier, which is a part of the Île de Montréal. It’s a 134-acre site that is situated at the foot of Mount Royal. The park features a variety of pavilions and exhibits from around the world, including the United States, Japan, and France. The park is also home to the World of Tomorrow, which is a multimedia pavilion that uses advanced technology to create an immersive experience for visitors. Overall, Expo 67 is a must-see destination for anyone visiting Montreal.
