ARLIS/NA H. W. Wilson Foundation Research Award

WESTFORD, Massachusetts – The Art Libraries Society of North America (ARLIS/NA) is pleased to announce this year’s recipient of the ARLIS/NA H. W. Wilson Foundation Research Award.

The H. W. Wilson Foundation Research Award supports research activities by ARLIS/NA individual members in the fields of librarianship, visual resources curatorship, and the arts. The award encourages the professional development of members in their capacities as information intermediaries and as subject specialists in the arts. The recipient for 2021 is Janelle Rebel for her project Bibliographic Performances & Surrogate Readings, which combines historical, practice-based, and exploratory research practices. Rebel’s project is slated to be published as a monograph by The Everyday Press (UK), an art book publisher directed by Arnaud Desjardin.

The members of the ARLIS/NA Research Awards Sub-Committee are: Jeanne-Marie Musto (Chair), Jade Finlinson, Kathy Woodrell, Anna Helgeson, and Alison Huftalen.

About the Art Libraries Society of North America

Founded in 1972, the Art Libraries Society of North America (ARLIS/NA) is a dynamic, international organization of close to 1,000 individuals devoted to fostering excellence in art and design librarianship and image management in the United States, Canada and Mexico. The membership includes architecture and art librarians, visual resources professionals, artists, curators, educators, publishers, students, and other interested in visual arts information. To serve this diverse constituency, the Society provides a wide range of programs and services within an organizational structure that encourages participation at every level.
